

private trips & family groups families with children...

Inn-to-inn walking holidays are a fabulous way for a family to go walking together. We've had children of all ages complete an Auswalk self-guided trip with their parents or grandparents. The kids just love being out front and reading the Walk Notes to find the way. As we've been told often - the family that walks together, talks together! Note that we do not take children under 15 on our group guided trips.

groups of friends or colleagues...

Do you enjoy going on holidays with a group of friends, family or work colleagues? Perhaps you holiday with friends from a club? What about a girls only week away or a family reunion? Maybe you're expecting overseas visitors? It's a great way to spend time with friends and family without having to do all of the organisation yourself. We arrange guided walks for private groups on trips that feature in this brochure and also on other tailor-made itineraries.

Why not consider joining two trips together into a longer holiday. Some of our scheduled group guided trips are designed to be done consecutively and it's easy to join two or more inn-to-inn trips together. The Surf Coast Walk and Great Ocean Walk in particular make an excellent continuous combination.

for those who have to travel on a specific date...

If you have a small "window of opportunity" and there are two or more of you, it's easy to do one of our self-guided trips. They can be started any day of the year, subject to availability and seasonal restrictions. If you're travelling alone and are unable to join one of our scheduled group guided walking holidays, you can book a private guide on one of our guided inn-to-inn trips or try our "Find a Walking Companion" service (see website or phone for details).

for those with very little time...

What a pity! However, we can offer short, guided trips in the Sydney region, Blue Mountains and the Grampians.
